Important notes

If you have any questions on how to complete this form, please speak to your tax or legal adviser.

- For a financial institution that will not have a GIIN, the reason is required. In particular, please set out:
 - whether the Entity is a trustee documented trust
 - a deemed compliant financial institution
 - owner documented financial institution
 - non-participating financial institution.
- Under legislation, there is no need for UK-registered pension funds to obtain a GIIN.
- This includes trading companies.
- This includes all non-trading investment bodies, for example family trusts (other than those with professional trustees) and also investment holding companies.
- Tax residency rules for Entities vary from country to country, and can be complex. For instance, companies will often be tax resident in the country where they are incorporated, as well as any other countries in which they conduct business, while trusts may need to consider where their trustees are resident. If there is doubt about where an Entity is tax resident, professional advice may be required.
- Controlling Persons – for a trust, this includes Settlor, Trustee, Protector (if any) and absolute beneficiaries. For any other Entity, it includes a shareholder and any other natural person exercising ultimate control over the investment.
A shareholder's or beneficiary's details only need to be included if they own, or are entitled to, at least 25% of the trust property.

The relevant competent tax authority has entered into a number of inter-governmental agreements to share tax information, where applicable, with the tax authorities in other territories. The requirement to collect information about each customer's tax residence and nationality is part of domestic legislation and as a financial services company we are legally obliged to collect it. We are asking for your tax residency, tax identification number (where applicable) and nationality and will record this information on our records.

The information that we will report to the relevant competent tax authority is:

- Your name, address, jurisdiction of tax residence, tax identification number and date of birth
- Your Friends Provident International policy/contract number
- The balance or value of your account/policy at the end of the calendar year or at the date the policy/contract was surrendered/encashed
- The sum of any withdrawals taken within the relevant reporting year.
