

Draft deed of assignment by gift

This deed is provided as a draft to be considered by you and your professional adviser. We can accept no responsibility for the tax or any other consequences arising out of you executing this deed, or for ensuring that the deed meets with your requirements.

Who is this form for?

This form is for owners of a Friends Provident International (FPI) policy who want to give all or part of their policy away to someone else. If you assign all of your policy to someone else, you will no longer own it. This means you will have no legal right to any policy benefits. If you assign part of your policy to someone else, you will have no legal right to the part which you assign away.

You can only use this deed to give your policy (or part of your policy) away absolutely. This means that you cannot place any conditions or restrictions around the assignment.

If you intend to assign your policy in exchange for money, or something of monetary value you will need to arrange for your own deed to be drafted.

Are there any instances in which this draft deed cannot be used?

Yes there are, these include:

- using this deed with any policy that is not issued by Friends Provident International (FPI)
- assigning the policy as collateral against a loan
- where the policy is exchanged for money or something of monetary value
- where the assignee is under the age of 18.

Completing this deed

Please ensure the deed is dated when submitted.

All sections of the deed should be completed.

Where a policy is being assigned from a trust, please ensure that all of the trustees sign as 'Assignors'.

If you make a mistake as you complete the deed, either sign your initials next to the changes or complete a new deed.

Important information

The assignment of the policy in full will revoke:

- any regular withdrawal in place
- any investment advisor agreement / fee in place
- any nomination of beneficiary or beneficiary trust in place

The new policy owner(s) will need to complete and submit new documentation to register these on their policy.

Where only part of a policy is being assigned, we may suspend any payments currently being made from the policy to the policy owner until the part assignment has been completed on our systems.

If this deed is not fully completed and/or we are missing any of the required evidence documents, we will be unable to register the assignment.

Please note that FPI will be unable to deal with the Assignee(s) until we have received the appropriate identification and address verification documents.
